A strong communicator who brings an organized approach to every case

Davis Boland focused on litigation while attending the Alabama School of Law, serving on the John A. Campbell Moot Court Board and coaching the Carol Andrews ABA team. He draws on that experience in every case he handles. He was also a member of the school's Children's Rights Clinic and served as an articles editor for the Journal of the Legal Profession.

Outside of the office, Davis enjoys cheering on the Alabama Crimson Tide, spending time with friends and family, and exploring Birmingham.
