

SOFTWARE & TECHNOLOGY

Technology never slows down — and neither does Lightfoot.

Computer software and technology evolve day to day and wait for no one. In fact, the technology that we'll be using five years from now is already being developed today. At Lightfoot, we're committed to staying on the cutting edge of these advancements and related legal issues to provide our clients with most relevant and accurate strategic counsel.

Lightfoot's experience in this complex area of litigation includes representation of both plaintiffs and defendants. This gives us a distinctive advantage: we understand and appreciate the mindset and approach from both sides of the table.

We have substantial depth representing businesses in computer software and other high-tech litigation, from licensing lawsuits to class actions. Lightfoot also handles matters on behalf of software developers and technology manufacturers. From securing advantageous settlements to winning favorable jury verdicts for clients, we've successfully managed cases across the country in a variety of venues.